K12USA.com Clients Get Their Just Reward With New Referral Program

Customers Can Score Unlimited $100 Amazon Gift Cards When They Successfully Refer Their Colleagues and Friends

Island Heights, N.J., August 3, 2016: - PRLog - K12USA.com, a premier technology company specializing in K–12 schools, announces the rollout of its new Referral Rewards Program.

How it works: Each time a current K12USA customer makes a successful referral (i.e., that referral becomes a customer), the referrer receives a $100 gift card to Amazon. There's no limit to the number of rewards a client can collect.

"Our clients have been incredibly loyal and supportive over the years, and they continually send referrals our way," says K12USA founder and CEO James Punderson. "We're extremely grateful and felt it was time to reward their efforts."

With its astounding inventory of goods, gifts, and services, Amazon is the natural choice for a reward card, where award recipients can choose anything from groceries to engagement rings to oddities like yodeling pickles.

Two ways to get credit:

1. The prospect contacts K12USA and mentions the referrer's name; or
2. The current customer provides K12USA with the prospect's contact info, and K12USA reaches out to him or her
